

Big increase in assets at Federal Savings & Loan

The assets of the Greencastle Federal Savings and Loan Association increased nearly one and half million dollars in 1967, according to the report given by Ernest H. Collins, its President at the annual Shareholders Meeting held Monday night. Mr. Collins said, "The gain of nearly a million and half dollars, or 13.5%, was the biggest gain ever experienced by this Association in any year. Such activities not only express the high level of prosperity being enjoyed but it also indicates the Association is serving the public in an increasingly satisfactory manner."

In his report to the membership, Mr. Collins showed that not only was 1967 an exceptional year for the local Savings and Loan in its growth pattern, but the year was also distinguished by an equal growth in the savings deposits. The reserves and loan portfolio also reflected a satisfactory gain.

The membership also heard a detailed discussion of the new 5% savings certificate the Association had been issuing this year, and an explanation of the new rules governing the insurance of accounts.

In looking ahead to 1968, the annual report indicated that there was a possibility that next year might see another round of tight money. This would, of course, present challenges for the savings and loan business and the real estate and housing industry. Mr. Collins said:

"The savings and loan business profited very much from the lessons it learned during the tight money year of 1966. I predict that even with a return to tight money next year that the business will be able to weather whatever economic storm might come along. "From the way things look now, I think that savings inflows will continue to be adequate to meet the demands for mortgages in this area. There is already some evidence that the demand for both single-family homes and new apartments is picking up. We anticipate that mortgage interest rates will be somewhat higher than those prevailing during 1967."

"All in all I think 1968 is going to be another year of development and progress for the Greencastle Federal Savings and Loan Association."

The officers of the Association for the coming year are: Ernest H. Collins, President, Rexell A. Boyd, Vice-President, and Harriet Sutton, Secretary-Treasurer. The directors of the Association are: Walter S. Ballard, Rexell A. Boyd, Chester C. Coan, Ernest H. Collins, and Norman Knights.

Allies kill record 2,868 Communists

SAIGON UPI—American and allied troops killed a record 2,868 Communists in combat in South Vietnam last week, military spokesmen said today.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese perished in unprecedented numbers in a vain New Year's offensive that included a bloody 36-hour truce that opened 1968.

Government spokesmen credited U.S. soldiers with killing most of the Communists in battles northwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian border and in the Que Son valley, a hideout for the North Vietnam 2nd division 360 miles up the coast from Saigon.

The Communists offensive sputtered on. Today, 19 miles south of Saigon, GIs routed the third major Viet Cong strike at the capital area in four days.

American casualties, expected to be as usual far lighter than the Communists last week, were not scheduled for release until Thursday when weekly losses are regularly reported.

According to U.S. officials, the highest previous Communist toll in one week was 2,783 men killed. That was in the week ending March 25, 1967.

Government spokesmen said that last week 263 South Vietnamese troops were killed. That was higher than the previous week but below the 380 government soldiers killed the week ending Dec. 9.

In Saigon's southern backyard, troops of the U.S. Army 9th Infantry Division swept through mangrove trees and rice paddies on foot and in helicopters in search of the 600-man Viet Cong force they battled during the night.

The Americans suffered 17 men killed and 27 wounded. The Communists fled, leaving at least 26 bodies behind. U.S. officers said the Communists apparently were within hours of springing a major attack when a 9th Division platoon ran into a guerrilla force.

"What started out as platoon against and enemy platoon skirmish wound up during the night as a near full scale brigade battle," a U.S. spokesman said. The Viet Cong fell back, avoiding being trapped by American reinforcements pouring in.

The Communists shot down three American helicopters, one of them carrying wounded GIs, a spokesman said.

Dr. Turk honored by national group

DePauw University's Dr. Laurel Turk Sunday was honored at the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese.

Head of DePauw's Romance Language department, Dr. Turk was recognized as "the one who has contributed most to further the activities of the Indiana Chapter of the AATSP during the years."

The announcement was made at the organization's Dec. 27-30 national meeting in Chicago.

Dr. Turk, a member of DePauw's faculty since 1928, was secretary-treasurer of the AATSP from 1951 to 1964 and has just retired from the Executive Council of the Association.

At least 35 deaths attributed to winter's most bitter foray

Winter's most bitter foray into the Northeast continued unrelentingly today, plummeting temperatures to record lows.

The mercury plunged to 34 degrees below zero at Watertown and Massena N.Y., coldest spots in the 48 adjacent states. Record lows were recorded at Bridgeport, Conn., 1 above; Albany, N.-

Y., 14 below and Scranton, Pa., minus 4.

At least eight persons died when fire roared through a four story brick tenement in a Brooklyn slum. More were feared trapped in the flaming debris as the thermometer registered zero—coldest day of winter in New York City and the coldest Jan. 9 in the city's history.

A farm family of eight was found dead in their home near Ossian, Iowa, apparently victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Fires Claim Victims

In Houston, Tex., three persons died Monday in an apartment house blaze. Two children perished and six persons were hurt when flames swept a tenement in Beacon, N.Y.

The bitter cold was blamed for at least 35 deaths.

Warming breezes spawned in the Gulf of Mexico reached into portions of the western two-thirds of the nation and brought relative relief to some areas gripped by days of subzero weather.

But even in the areas where the mercury finally climbed to a plus reading, hazardous driving warnings were raised. The warm air, traveling largely in upper atmosphere currents, mixed with colder air hugging the ground to produce snow, sleet and freezing rain from the mid-Mississippi and lower Ohio Valley to the upper Midwest, and east to Pennsylvania and west to the Plains states.

Driving Hazardous

In the Midwest, snow and sleet made roads hazardous. In Texas, ice and cold temperatures threatened citrus crops. Farther west, the Pacific Northwest felt the fingers of a new storm, packing lowland rains and mountain snows.

In New York, which always reels under severe winter conditions, the situation was normal but unbearable.

The Automobile Club of New York was swamped with emergency calls from persons whose cars balked in the record low zero temperature. A spokesman said the club was fielding 500 calls an hour.

Commuter trains were running up to 30 minutes late Monday because the cold froze switches. Subway trains were delayed because it was so cold doors would not shut.

Ex-fighter pilot new Australia Prime Minister

CANBERRA UPI — Former fighter pilot John G. Gorton won the prime ministership of Australia today and vowed to keep his nation with America in the fighting against the Communists in Vietnam.

"We must show them aggression doesn't pay. We lived through an era some years back where we let it exist and look what happened," said the tall, ruggedly handsome orange grower chosen by the governing Liberal party to replace Harold Holt, who was lost while swimming last month.

His election came on the second ballot and put an American into the prime minister's residence. His petite wife, the former Bettina Brown of Bangor, Me., who has never taken Australian citizenship, said, "When I go to the U.S., I'm always happy to be back home." Mrs. Gorton said, however, she considers herself a "de facto Australian."

Gorton, 56, quickly moved to assure his countrymen that although he fully supports his nation's growing alliance with America he is Australian first and last. He mentioned Holt's triumphant election slogan, "All the way with LBJ."

"I don't believe Holt ever said Australia would automatically follow anything the Americans did . . . I wouldn't say that myself . . . we can't give a blank check to the future," he said.

But clearly, Gorton was a man in the Holt mold. He stands to right of many younger members of his party but to the left of fellow Liberals his own age. Like Holt, he has a reputation for wading into political fights and loving it.

He is a dawn-to-midnight worker. He is more respected than loved in parliament, where he transfers from his senate majority leader's seat to the lower, more powerful federal house.

No rate established for tax payments

Roland Lane, Putnam County Treasurer, and Elston C. Cooper, County Auditor, today asked The Daily Banner to inform county residents that they cannot pay their taxes at this time.

This situation is due to the fact that the Indiana State Board of Tax Commissioners has not made a decision as yet on state surplus money to be applied for property tax relief.

Until a new rate is established, it will be impossible for any payments to be made at Lane's office.

Several people have tried to pay their taxes at the same time they bought their new motor vehicle license plates as they have done in former years.

At present, all the treasurer and auditor can do is mark time until the state board officially sets the rate.

The story of Emil

Plan special work-study program

Putnam County is initiating a work-study program at the high school level in Greencastle for students with special learning difficulties. The story of Emil, which follows, illustrates the need for this kind of program.

Emil is like any other junior high boy. His appearance is neat. He is pleasant and polite. He gets along well with others students and teachers. In all respects he appears to be like any normal youngster his age. But Emil is different. He is handicapped. It is not a handicap you can see like the loss of a limb or a deformed body. Due to circumstances surrounding his birth, severe illness, an accident early in life, cultural or environmental factors, Emil does not have the ability to learn school work at the same rate his regular classmates can. Through no fault of his own, he faces constant failure and sometimes the ridicule of less tolerant, less understanding students. Even teachers who may not know Emil's situation may think he's lazy or not applying himself. So Emil begins to think he is not worth much. He strikes back with aggressive or clownish behavior.

There are a number of Emils in our schools. They are normal in all respects except they have a slower learning rate. Their future employment will therefore have to be consistent with their learning ability.

The schools in Putnam County have decided to do something about Emil. Up to the present there have been special services for Emil from primary to junior high. When Emil becomes 16 he will be dropped from school because there is no further program for him. One Emil just sits at home day in and day out depending solely on his parents. Another Emil is confined to menial tasks about the home with the health of his parents the only security. Still another is fortunate to be reared on a farm and has learned farm work or a fourth who is skillful enough with his hands to learn carpenters work. The last two "Emils" are exceptions rather than the rule.

Putnam County is now developing a program to meet the need of Emil. The first step is to find all "Emils" in the county by a survey which is now in progress. Those in lower classes will come into the program as they reach high school. Those, old enough, already in junior or senior high will be given the opportunity, with the parents consent, to join the work-study program in school and be placed on a work assignment when adequately prepared. The school part of the day will offer orientation in various kinds of work including visitations of some employing places, training in tool subjects (directed at knowledge in arithmetic and communicating skills needed in the kind of work they are training to do.) There may be those who can be placed in the work program immediately because of some skill or knowledge already possessed which fits in. Students so placed will be evaluated by the employer on attitudes, work habits, getting along with others. The coordinator of the program will make regular visits to each placement and work closely with the employer to develop a good employee and a useful citizen who will one day become socially and economically independent.

The program will be initiated starting with the second semester of the current school year and will emphasize the dissemination of occupational information that will help prepare them for work placement in the coming school year.

How can the community help with the work-study program. Business and industry having jobs students could do satisfactorily can be of assistance by meeting with the coordinator and discussing potential placement of these students. Service organizations and clubs can be informed of this program by inviting the Director or coordinator to explain the work-study program.

The success of the work-study program for Emil will depend on a close working relationship between the school and the community.

Trial next Monday

Naomi Carson, 38, Roachdale, has pleaded not guilty in the Putnam Circuit Court to a charge of abandonment of her three children.

Judge Francis N. Hamilton set her trial for 9 a.m. on Monday, Jan. 15, and fixed her bond at $1,000.

Three teenage boys enter guilty pleas

Three teenage boys entered pleas of guilty when arraigned Monday in the Putnam Circuit Court before Judge Francis N. Hamilton.

Each was charged with being minors in illegal possession of alcohol.

They were Gary Abney, 17, Crawfordsville; Larry Abney, 18, Ladoga, and Allen Cavaness, 19, Roachdale.

All three were fined $25 and costs and their driver's licenses were turned over to Mrs. Mildred Hervey, Putnam County Probation Officer, for a period of 30 days.

They were also ordered to stay away from each other and not to drive during their probation.

The youths were taken into custody in Roachdale Friday night by Sheriff Bob Albright and lodged in the county jail.

Legislative leaders will conduct remap caucuses

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Legislative leaders of both parties were being summoned today for caucuses here on Congressional re-districting, probably to be scheduled for this weekend.

The party caucuses will be called by party leaders at the request of Governor Branigin, who Monday asked that the skull-sessions be called because of a question as to the validity of two remapping plans now under consideration by the General Assembly.

Fall injuries fatal

FORT WAYNE UPI—Fayette Jacobs, 40, Fort Wayne, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital Monday after he fell 40 feet from a crane while working on an industrial plant construction project.

Jacobs was a foreman at Joslyn Stainless Steel Co. where the accident occurred.

Heavy fire damage

GOSHEN UPI—A damage estimate of $500,000 was set on a shopping center blaze here Monday which resulted in the injury of three firemen.

Goshen fire chief Robert Moriarty estimated the loss to the G. L. Perry Variety Store and the Judd Drug Store. Both were destroyed.

The injured firemen were John Vander Reyden, 42, and Richard Lamb, 40, who suffered broken arms. Thurston Perrin, 39, suffered frostbite of the toes.

The cause of the blaze in 11 below zero temperatures has not been determined.

Irwin is chairman of Roachdale Bank Directors

Galen S. Irwin was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Roachdale Bank and Trust Company at the annual reorganization meeting of that institution. Mr. Irwin has been associated with the Roachdale Bank and Trust Company for 45 years and is the first person to serve as chairman of the board for this organization. Mr. Irwin will continue to be active in an advisory capacity when he retires as president.

At the same meeting, Sam Hostetter was elected President of the Roachdale Bank and Trust Company. Mr. Hostetter has been associated with the bank since 1951. He is a graduate of Indiana University and the University of Wisconsin School of Banking. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, national business honorary fraternity, as well as many other civic and professional organizations.

Other officers elected at this meeting are William E. Etcheson, Jr., Vice President and Trust Officer; James M. Reed, Cashier; and Lucille Curran, Assistant Cashier and Assistant Trust Officer.

Preceding this meeting, the stockholders, at their annual meeting, elected the following directors: Nathan Call, William E. Etcheson, Jr., Sam Hostetter, Eugene D. Hutchins, Galen S. Irwin, Paul H. Sutherland and Jack Young.

During the meeting, Mr. Irwin pointed out that the Roachdale Bank and Trust Company had doubled in size during the last seven years and predicted that a similar growth would continue. He expressed his appreciation to the many loyal customers who have made the Roachdale Bank and Trust Company their banking home and to the employees who have given their devoted service.

Bus driver killed

HENDERSON, Tex. UPI—A Continental Trailways bus skidded on icy State Highway 43 some 10 miles east of Henderson today, went down an embankment at a bridge and smashed into a tree.

The driver was reported dead and six persons were injured. Five of the injured were taken to Henderson Memorial Hospital and one to Good Shepherd Hospital in Longview.

The whole countryside around Henderson was icebound, with the temperature below freezing and a light rain falling.

100 on Thursday

BICKNELL UPI—Miss Hulda Villwock will be honored on her 100th birthday anniversary Thursday with a party and open house at the Moore Nursing Home where she lives.

Miss Villwock was born at Edwardsport.

USS INTREPID—Class Doryl K. Abbott, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Abbott of 127 W. Berry St., Greencastle, was one of 3,200 Navy men aboard the "special attack" aircraft carrier USS Intrepid who participated in a traditional Navy initiation when the ship crossed the Equator.

The ceremony is an ancient tradition observed by all Navy ships. During the ceremony sailors being initiated "cleanse" themselves of their ways as "Pollywogs" to make themselves worthy of their initiation as "Shellbacks."

"Davey Jones" conducted the two-day ceremony, which converted almost half of the ship's crew into "Shellbacks."

Intrepid, which recently completed her second deployment off the coast of North Vietnam, is a three-time winner of the Navy's Battle Efficiency "E".

"there's no Business like Sew Business"

According to "Seventeen" Magazine—and they should know!—AMERICA'S TEEN-AGE GIRLS KEEP THEMSELVES IN STITCHES, and they do it with patterns, pinky shears, seam binding and bobbins.

The fabulous figures from the magazine's survey showed that more than 10 million teen girls (85.0%) know how to sew, and last year used their needle know-how to make 82,640,000 pieces of clothing or items for their rooms.

Here's more light on the subject:

- Last year more teen sewers "ran up" 70,677,000 items of outerwear ranging from slacks and shorts to coats and formal.
- Dresses got the teen vote as most popular item to sew at home. Last year teen seamstresses cut and sewed 27,799,000 shifts, sheaths, shirtwaists and tents, averaging 3.9 dresses each.
- An overwhelming number of teen sew-it-yourselfers (95.2%) work from patterns.
- Virtually all teen sewers (94.4%) use home sewing machines and personally own 17.9% of these machines. During the next year the young dressmakers will acquire 750,000 new sewing machines.

THEY SEW A FINE SEAM

Teen girls not only know how to sew, but do. During a single month 51.5% make an article of clothing or an item for their rooms, and 67.9% put their talents toward alterations. Last year, teen girls snipped and stitched nearly 12 million pieces of innerwear accessories and room furnishings, including 7,961,000 aprons, napkins, tablecloths and other accessories; 2,504,000 nightgowns, pajamas and slips, and 1,498,000 curtains, bedspreads and drops.

But they prefer to pin and trim outerwear. In addition to the nearly 30 million dresses they made last year, they also cut and sewed 27,189,000 skirts, jumpers and blouses; 8,703,000 slacks and shorts; 5,804,000 suits, jackets and coats, and 1,232,000 formal.

Heart transplant man in critical condition

PALO ALTO, Calif. UPI—Teams of specialists worked today to halt severe liver deterioration threatening the life of Mike Kasperak, America's first adult heart transplant patient.

Kasperak was in critical condition, but the woman's heart that freed him from a death-like coma was functioning at near normal capacity.

Doctors ordered blood transfusions to offset internal bleeding detected at midnight Monday. A blood bank said donors "ran up the stairs" when Kasperak's need for relatively rare blood was made known.

Dr. Norman E. Shumway, who performed the fourth heart transplant in history Saturday night, would not speculate on the cause of bleeding in Kasperak's gastro-intestinal tract beyond a hospital statement. It said an existing liver condition and enzyme changes in the blood probably were the causes.

Kasperak received the heart of Mrs. Virginia Mae White, 43, who died of a brain hemorrhage while Kasperak was near death from heart failure in another ward at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital.

Kasperak's turn toward death came after he suffered respiratory difficulty Sunday night resulting from chronic lung disease. Shumway said the breathing troubles were "not unexpected" because Kasperak "worked so many years in a steel mill and was a heavy smoker."

Earlier Sunday night Kasper-ak watched surgeons discuss his case on television for 10 minutes and nurses said he was visibly pleased. In addition his wife, Fern, came to his intensive care room three times for brief visits.

The last medical bulletin issued at 3 p.m. Monday said "The many complications are severe but soluble, according to Dr. Shumway, as long as heart function is good."

"There is severe pre-existing liver disease manifested by enzyme changes in the blood which is no doubt responsible for his bleeding conditions," The report said Kasperak has a form of "hepatorenal," which is poor liver and kidney function.

"The transfusions of fresh blood appear to have stopped the bleeding from the gastro-intestinal tract," the hospital bulletin said.

A Woman's View

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK UPI—Look for some see-sawing in the national economy in 1968.

Who says so? Why, none other than a bunch of girl watchers who have discovered a direct relation between skirt lengths and the nation income, and can prove it statistically since the turn of the century.

As the Gross National Income goes up, so do skirt lengths.

Thus, with the mini-skirt inching to an all-time high for hemlines in 1967, it is no surprise to the observers that the national purse for the year is expected to reach record highs also—to an estimated $650 billion.

But moving strongly onto the fashion scene is the mid-skirt, a drastic drop to 12 or 13 inches from the floor. This length could presage some hobbles in the economy also. Fashion indicators point to downward prodding by the perils of the British pound, and across the board tax increases and continuing inflation in the United States.

In the main, skirt lengths for '68 will remain well above the knees. That'd mean a generally good economy. But consider, these observers say, that in 1967 when the longer skirts became fact instead of fad that the national income rose just a fraction over five per cent. That is the lowest percentage of increase since 1961.

The highest percentage of increase was in 1966 when the national income rose to nearly $617 billion, a 9.65 per cent increase over 1965. The year was one in which the abbreviated mini really began catching on.

Making all of these comparisons in the H. W. Gossard Co., which has been issuing hemline-economy predictions since 1958.

In 1959 when the income broke $400 billion for the first time, hemlines went up an inch. By 1961, skirts were shortened to the point where the fashion observers said they looked as if they'd shrunk in the wash. Income reached $426.9 billion.

By 1965, the bared knee styles inspired by Paris' Andre Courreges were catching on, and national income went up to $562.4 billion. In 1967, the mini-skirt and the mammoth national purse of $650 billion were a well-paired twosome.

Question: If the Gossard theory continues to hold true, and the national economy continues to expand, where will it all end with hemlines?

Fortnightly Club Holds 73rd January Meeting

The Fortnightly Club held its 73rd January meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Coffin Monday evening, Jan. 8. Miss Ethel Daniel was assistant hostess.

The President, Miss Mary Frances Cooper, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Norma Garber, who took the members on a photographic tour to Heidelberg, Rothenburg, and Munich, Germany; to Montreaux and Interlochen, Switzerland; to Salzburg, Austria; across the Grossglockner to Cortina and Tivoli, Italy.

Highlights of the Montreaux tour was a visit to the Castle Chillon. A medieval castle built atop a natural stone island which was a fortress for the Romans during the first century. After a visit there, Lord Byron wrote the poem "Prisoner of Chillon" which well explains its inpenetrability.

At Interlochen a trip to Trummelbach Falls, fed by springs inside three mountains, was breathtaking as the falls may only be seen by going up on a lift to view the spectacle. The Gardens of Villa d'Este at Tivoli, Italy, near Rome were beautifully photographed and most impressive. This garden is made up of 500 fountains.

In ending the tour, Mrs. Garber noted the reverence with which Europeans preserve the beauties of the past so that people of today may see them in all the splendor of the eras of long ago.

The next Fortnightly meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Treible with Mrs. C. O. Porter as co-hostess. Mrs. C. D. Dietz will present the program.

Dear Heloise:

As a mother who has had to zip and unzip the jackets of three small children many times a day, I finally got smart.

I put those metal shower curtain hooks on each zipper pull! Now my three little tiddly-winks have no trouble at all zipping and unzipping their own jackets. Three or four little fingers can fit into the big loop and it gives them something to pull on.

The jackets can also be easily hung by this big ring, which saves wear and tear on them.

Busy Mother

Dear Mommie:

Your tiddly-wink idea jumped right into the bowl! And I remember that wonderful old game. When I was a child we played it by the hour.

I find that placing hot cooked potatoes in a large cooking spoon facilitates the peeling operation.

The spud rolls easily... so there are no burned fingers or fork stabs that usually break up the potato.

Dear Heloise:

Have trouble turning a belt right side out when sewing? Just sew two strings (as long as the belt) on the inside end corners as you make the belt. Then when ready, simply pull the strings up through the middle. It's all right side out.

The string is readily removed from the end seam. And even the corners have pulled out nice and tidy.

marked for each month of the year.

On the first of January, I get out my box and date book and start addressing them. In the corner of each envelope where the stamp goes, I put the date and then tuck the envelope into the proper pockets.

All I have to do is check the contents of a pocket at the beginning of each month, taking out the card that needs to be sent in time to arrive. This way I never am rushed, nor do I forget anyone.

Would like to pass on something I find very useful...

I keep a large paint brush alongside the dust pan in my kitchen. It's great for sweeping up dry spills such as cereal, sugar, etc., or for picking up leftover dirt after dust-mopping or sweeping. Gets all the little bits the big broom leaves behind.

MRS. ROME complained to the school principal that her 13-year-old son seemed to be spending most of his time staring at the girls in their mini-skirts. "Don't worry," were the principal's reassuring words. "He's just going through a stage that won't last more than the rest of his life."

In "One Man's Gold Rush," a volume of remarkable photographs of the Klondike boom in 1900, Murray Morgan, who contributes the text, tells of the wild and woolly dance hall in Dawson, presided over by a Mae-Westian amazon known as Diamond Tooth Gertie. Star boarder of this elite retreat was a lady named Gad Wilson, who explained at regular intervals, "My ma told me to be a good girl and pick nice clean friends—and I leave it to you, don't I pick 'em clean?"

A judge in Missouri just meted out the punishment that an inveterate Peeping Tom deserved: thirty days in a nudist camp—blindfolded.

QUICKIES: Radio sportscaster Joe Garagiola has devised a fitting punishment for a suburban community that's seeking to bar Italian families. ## The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON UPI—Ready or not, the time has come when we must give some thought to naming the 1967 "man of the year."

I'm not trying to influence anyone, but perhaps it will help you make up your mind if I list a few of my favorite nominees and briefly review their qualifications.

Turning first to the field of finance, we find two outstanding candidates. One, of course, is Jerry Wolman, the Philadelphia builder-sportsman.

A fellow who goes through life running up a little bill here and a little bill there, and periodically consolidating them all with a loan from the Friendly Finance Company, can only stand in awe of Wolman.

According to reports published last month, he owed about $6,783,711 to some 300 creditors, was $85,000 overdrawn at the bank, was $226,000 behind on his insurance premiums, and was $182,000 in arrears on his tax payments.

This certainly makes him an inspiration to all of us who are struggling to live beyond our means.

But is Wolman more deserving of "man of the year" honors than the chap in New York who jumped out of a seventh story window upon being confronted with his hotel bill?

Anyone who expressed so vividly the feeling most of us have when we see the size of a hotel bill truly merits our consideration. And there are others who should not be overlooked.

Congress has a strong contender in Rep. Jerry L. Pettis,

R-Calif., who devised a plan to reduce mounting crime statistics.

Quit hiring policemen, see, and then people won't be able to find an officer to report a crime to.

The clergy has given us a good "man of the year" possibility in the person of the Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis, pastor of the Burton Parish Church of Williamsburg, Va.

In an era when the utterances of ministers rarely spread beyond their own pulpits, Dr. Lewis delivered a sermon that was quoted on front pages from coast to coast.

I close this incomplete listing by mentioning from the industrial field the unidentified designer of Communist China's new automobile, called Red Flag.

It is said to be comparable to Western-built cars. The only trouble is that 30 minutes after you take a ride you feel like driving again.

This is how I clean my garage floor when snow is on the ground.

I scoop up some clean snow and throw it into the garage with a snow shovel. Then I take a push broom and sweep it all out before it melts. The snow works like a sponge, cleaning the floor just as if it were washed, and much faster with less mess.

Head Start classes end

January 5th marked the end of classes in a most successful first nine-month Head Start program in Clay, Owen and Putnam Counties. Four centers, two in Greencastle, and one in Brazil and Spencer offered over sixty children in the area preschool training. The children, fifteen in each center, ranged in age from three to six.

The teachers attempted to create a warm and affectionate atmosphere where creative play, art projects and structured learning activities served to sharpen the five basic senses. Because the age range was so wide, the types of learning situations were tailored to each child's need. The objectives of the program aim toward goals in which children learn to utilize all their faculties through physical, mental and social exercises.

The program has included the following activities.

1. Large group learning sessions in which elementary concepts of time and space are discussed and to which children are encouraged to contribute by sharing their experiences. Here creative play, with a variety of media, is practiced by the children using art, dramatics, music and games in learning situations.

2. Frequent recesses during which the children exercise their own interests in the separate play centers and opportunities to play with large equipment and active games is given.

3. Structured learning situations in small groups and with individual attention given to each child.

4. Daily snacks and hot lunches providing valuable nutritional supplements.

5. Field trips which develop in each child an awareness of the world surrounding him.

In addition to these activities Head Start teachers and staff have regular meetings with parents in order to exchange ideas and views and enjoy together, in a social atmosphere, related programs of interest. This summer the Head Start children and their families enjoyed a week-end of camping at McCormick's Creek State Park with the staff hosting the affair. The staff also served approximately 275 Head Start families, Board members and friends a Thanksgiving dinner and awarded certificates of merit to its many volunteers and friends.

The teachers are: Mrs. Jennie Killion, Mrs. Mary Harris, Brazil; Mrs. Edith Rice, Mrs. Nancy Owen, Mrs. Louise Thomas, Mrs. Terry Rominger, Greencastle; and Mrs. Bobbi Hutchison, Mrs. Karen White, Spencer.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

Despite severe economic pressure brought on by the United States, a serious difference of opinion with the Soviet Union and some obvious failures, Fidel Castro's grip on Cuba remains firm nine years after he came to power.

In fact, except for the Bay of Pigs incident which turned out to be a fiasco for the United States, he has had no serious challenges.

This despite the fact that Cuba continues to be an island of shortages of almost all descriptions, to which was added on his ninth anniversary strict rationing of gasoline.

Fuel Limited

Dressed in his customary olive-green fatigue uniform, Castro told 200,000 Cubans gathered in Marti Plaza for the anniversary that the Soviet Union had a limited capacity for meeting Cuba's mounting petroleum needs.

He disclosed that since the middle of 1967 he had been drawing "advances" on scheduled fuel shipments and declared it neither dignified nor proper that Cuba should have to ask such advances.

In the last two months, he said, Cuba had had to dip into strategic military petroleum stocks.

Three factors probably account principally for Castro's continued success.

The first is the half billion dollars per day which the Soviet Union has pumped into his economy.

Embargo Fails

The second is the inability of the United States to persuade other principal world suppliers, such as Britain and Japan, to go along with its economic embargo.

The third is the Cuban people themselves to whom Castro has promised a new prestige and new social order. Malcontents are being gotten out of the country at the rate of some 50,000 a year. School children are being educated under the strict discipline of Castro communism.

Castro's greatest failure has been his own inability to export his revolution to other Latin American countries. His determination to become the recognized leader of all Latin American revolution not only has estranged him from other Communist parties in the hemisphere but also is the principle source of his disagreement with Moscow.

Disagree On Tactics

Moscow has $250 million worth of trade agreements with other Latin American nations and does not favor the Castro tactics of violent revolution everywhere.

The oil shortage could be one sign of Moscow disfavor.

Diplomatic rumor in Havana is that the Russians have told Castro that as of the end of this year, his economic aid will be cut to $70 million annually.

At home, after an initial headlong plunge toward industrialization, he now is concentrating on long-term expansion of agriculture.

He has built fertilizer plants, plants for generating electricity and dams.

On the pretext of imminent U.S. attack, he also has built an army employing nearly 10 per cent of the Cuban population. This has been expensive.

Singer unable to remember details of incident

GLENDALE, Calif. UPI — Folk singer Jimmie Rodgers believes he was "worked over" by an off-duty police officer who stopped his car last Dec. 1, according to a story in the Los Angeles Times.

Rodgers, 34, has undergone two emergency brain operations because of the near-fatal skull fracture and is set for a third in about six months.

Three Los Angeles police officers were suspended for 15 days for "improper procedure" after the off-duty policeman, Michael T. Duffy, halted Rodgers' car when he observed him driving erratically on the San Diego Freeway.

Following an investigation of the incident, Police Chief Thomas Reddin said, "We have been unable to establish any criminal action on the part of any members of the department."

Rodgers has said he cannot remember anything about the incident, other than that he was pulled off the freeway by a car with blinding headlights.

The singer is far from satisfied, however, with the police version of what took place after he halted his car on a side street in the Granada Hills area shortly after 4 a.m.

"I think I was worked over," Rodgers was quoted as saying. Doctors said the singer apparently was injured in a fall, not by a blow, but Rodgers said:

"One doctor told me that to suffer this injury, I'd have had to have fallen six or seven feet, right on my head, on something hard."

Rodgers was discovered semiconscious in the front seat of his car about an hour after the incident by a friend, Eddy Samuels, who became alarmed when the singer did not return home after attending a party.

HARDWOOD HIGHLIGHTS

By FRANK PUCKETT Jr., BANNER SPORTS EDITOR

Cloverdale could write its name in the history books of high school basketball tonight if they come home with a victory over Eminence. The Clovers, under the able direction of mentor Al Tucker, haven't seen any action since December 15 when they racked up their ninth win in a row for this season against Needmore and they could be a little rusty—but again that's not characteristic for a Cloverdale ball club. They downed the Bels once in their opener November 1 88-75. Agile 6-4 center Rick Ford got 34 points in that encounter and has posted a 30 point plus average ever since.

The Clovers were the only club in the county that didn't play over the weekend, but nevertheless it was still a hotly contested two nights.

Greencastle knocked off Cascade and Brazil to better their record to 8-4 and tie for first place in the Western Indiana Conference race. Pete Norris dazzled Brazil with 24 rebounds and 31 points and Terry Ross bombed away with 33 points against Cascade. Both teams hit fantastic shooting percentages from the floor, but were still beaten by Greencastle although coach Dave McCracken failed to use the press against Brazil—a first for the season.

Bainbridge finally got it when they traveled to Fountain Central Saturday. The host beat them two points, 85-83, in an overtime session that found 6-9 Fred Cox and Gary Judy fouling out. Judy had 18 and Cox had 20 points when they fouled out. The Pointers tucked away a Friday night contest against sister school Roachdale 106-62.

Fillmore squeaked by visiting Reelsville Friday night in a real thriller 51-50. Dave Walton, who hadn't hit a free throw in five trips to the line that night slipped one through the nets with the clock showing 3 seconds and the Cards won it. Walton also won the Cards a previous contest by stripping the nets with a 25-footer with ten seconds left to go. He wound up high point man with 13. The Cards turned around and really laid it on Linden at Waynetown Saturday night, 89-65. Senior Darly Williamson hit 19 of 20 free throws and ten men scored for the Cards. Roachdale got blanked out on both accounts over the weekend. Bainbridge did it on Friday as we said earlier and then Waveland did it on Saturday night 69-68. Waveland's Mike Mitchell, who averages 32 plus, sunk 12 field goals and 11 free throws for game high of 35 points.

Russellville took it on the chin Friday night when Big Four Conference foe New Ross out-scored them in an overtime session 12-2 and won the game 80-70. Coach John Hutchison had a boy miss two free throws with only fifteen seconds on the clock that could have iced the game and then three of his first five left the game with fouls as soon as the overtime session got underway. What a way to start the new year!

As bad as I hate to do it, I'm going to miss the Cloverdale-Eminence game tonight and head to Indianapolis for the first annual American Basketball Association All-Star game. Yours truly will be one of the sports writers who will help choose the ABA's Most Valuable Player and top ten players. However, I'm sure the Clovers can do it without me.

Lew Alcindor, UCLA's All-American 7-foot-1 center who can be expected to lead the Bruins to another 50 or 60 consecutive victories before he graduates in 1969, may not play in either the American Basketball Association or the National Basketball Association.

At least that is the way Coach Bruce Hale of the Oakland Oaks sees it. Hale thinks Alcindor will wind up with the Harlem Globetrotters.

"I feel the Trotters can offer Alcindor more money than either league can," Hale said. "I think the NBA may have a problem in connection with Alcindor. The older, established clubs won't want to sit by and watch one of the expansion teams—Seattle or San Diego—get him.

"One of the new teams is likely to finish at the bottom and get the first draft choice. I think the NBA may do something about this.

"The ABA doesn't have this problem, for we're all in the same boat—all new. Naturally, the club lowest in the standings will get the first draft pick."

"At this point in his life," Hale said, "Alcindor is better than Wilt Chamberlain was at the same stage."

It's unanimous — UCLA is nation's best

NEW YORK UPI —High and mighty UCLA regained unanimous college basketball supremacy today when the nation's coaches gave the unbeaten Bruins every first place vote for the fifth time this season to again easily outdistance Houston in the sixth weekly ratings for 1967-68.

Coach Johnny Wooden's invincible forces, who are 10-0 this season and are currently riding a 44-game win string, the second longest in the history of the collegiate game, were named to the top spot on every ballot cast by United Press International's 35-member Board of Coaches to roll up a perfect 350 points. A week ago the Bruins received 34 first place votes and 34 points when upstart Oklahoma City landed the other vote.

Houston, rolling along with a 15-0 mark, retained second place for the sixth week in a row by receiving all but two second place votes. The Cougars thereby cut the Bruins lead from 43 to 39 points.

But after the top two, losses by Vanderbilt, ranked third last week, and Oklahoma City, No. 8 a week ago, set off a chain reaction that altered the next seven spots.

Vanderbilt Drops Back
In the balloting based on games played through Jan. 6, North Carolina, Kentucky, and Tennessee each moved up a notch, all three leapfrogging past Vanderbilt, which dropped to sixth after falling before Kentucky 94-78.

Utah dropped from a tie for sixth to seventh, and was followed by New Mexico and St. Bonaventure, the top 10's two new entries who soared from deep in the second 10 a week ago to the eighth and ninth spots respectively. Davidson remained 10th.

UCLA opened its Pacific Fight campaign by crushing Washington and Washington State last week, and Houston was just as convincing in thumping Michigan by 26 points and Centenary by 30 as the two giants move toward their head-to-head clash at the Astrodome on January 20.

North Carolina (9-1) received a majority of the third place votes after whipping Wake Forest and Duke, the Tar Heels' major Atlantic Coast Conference rival.

Big Win
Kentucky 9-1, made its only game of the week a big one by downing Vandy and receiving 241 points for its efforts—96 more than a week ago. Tennessee 7-1 broke its tie for sixth with Utah by moving into fifth with 115 points, 48 more than the Vols had last week.

Three points back came the Commodores 10-2 who had been comfortably lodged in third place for five straight weeks before their loss to Kentucky. Vanderbilt received less than half their 244-vote total of last week.

Utah won its one game of the week, topping American University and received 97 points, 30 more than last week.

New Mexico 13-0 move up from a tie for 15th a week ago by garnering 76 points after downing arch-rival New Mexico State 71-64 Saturday night. St. Bonaventure, unbeaten in 11 outings, more than quadrupled its point total from 19 to 63 after whipping Kent and Niagara in their two games of the week, enabling the Bonnies to shoot up from 17th place.

Davidson, in an up and down week, was beaten by last week's 12th ranked team, Duke, but came back to clip St. John's, previously ranked No. 11.

ABA all-star game tonight

INDIANAPOLIS UPI —East meets West in the American Basketball Association's first All-Star game tonight, a mid-season extravaganza patterned after those of the rival National Basketball Association.

The Indiana Pacers were selected as hosts for the league's first All-Star venture and pro basketball dignitaries virtually from coast to coast were expected.

Pacers general manager Mike Storen, who said ticket sales began only last week, said he expected about 8,000 fans.

Jim Pollard of the Minnesota Muskies will coach the East squad and Babe McCarthy of New Orleans the West.

The East was scheduled to start Roger Brown of Indiana and Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh at forward, Mel Daniels of Minnesota at center and Freddie Lewis of Indiana and Don Freeman of Minnesota at guard.

For the West, it will be the veteran Cliff Hagan of Dallas and Doug Moe of New Orleans at forward, Red Robbins of New Orleans in the pivot and Levern Tart of Oakland, the league's top scorer, and single-game record-holder Larry Jones of Denver at guard.

The East was conceded a slight edge—if only because of Hawkins, Brown and Daniels in the lineup.

Four game string going for Knicks and new coach

United Press International
The New York Knicks hope the other shoe never falls now that Red Holzman is clicking with a winning combination.

When Holzman succeeded Dick McGuire as Knickerbocker coach and New York began to win, everybody wondered at what stage the new mentor's luck would fall into the usual pattern of disaster.

The Knicks won once, twice, three times. Would it end now? The answer Monday night was no. New York won its fourth straight under Holzman by beating the Sonics in Seattle 119-113 on some aggressive play by big Walt Bellamy, who dragged down 19 rebounds and scored 27 points in the night's only league action.

Dick Barnett was an able assistant with six scoring feeds and 25 points for New York.

Seattle rallied with a 35-point fourth quarter, but fell short and dropped 19 games back of the pace as the Western Division cellar-dweller. Tom Meschery was the Sonics' high scorer with 24 points.

Pipers on brink of taking over Eastern Division lead

Pittsburgh's new winning streak has the Pipers on the brink of taking over the Eastern Division lead in the American Basketball Association.

Their most recent skein stopped at 15, two short of the pro basketball record, the Pipers moved to within nine percentage points of Minnesota in the East by edging Houston 109-107 Monday night on Charlie Williams' driving layup with two seconds remaining.

Kentucky knocked over Minnesota 107-103 to break a five-game slide and New Jersey beat Oakland 128-118 in the only other ABA games played on the eve of the ABA's inaugural East-West All-Star game at Indianapolis.

Chico Vaughn, one of the performers selected for tonight's All-Star game, led Pittsburgh's attack with 27 points. Art Becker of Houston, who also is slated for action in the classic, had a game high of 30 points.

Louis Dampier deposited 30 points and Darel Carrier added 27 for Kentucky, which is mired in the Eastern Division cellar. Mel Daniels kept the losing Muskies in the game with his 25 points.

Dan Anderson led New Jersey with 31 points and Levern Tart netted 27 for the losing Oaks.

Packers-Raiders get ready for Super Bowl game

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. UPI —The time for talking is over and the Green Bay Packers and Oakland Raiders closed the gates to their practice fields today and went to work on their plans for settling the second Super Bowl game.

The only visible gremlin was the flu bug of Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, but Coach John Rauch fully expected his quarterback to work out with the team and be ready for the Sunday game in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Both teams planned hard practices today and Wednesday, the 14-points favored Packers at the New York Yankees spring training grounds here and the Raiders 15 miles north at a boys prep school in Boca Paton. The workouts of both teams will be closed from now on.

Lamonica rested in his room Monday when the Raiders put on their uniforms in the afternoon for press pictures and interviews. He had the flu before the team left California Sunday to fly to Florida, but the team arrived reporting the bug was whipped.

Hollywood News

HOLLYWOOD UPI —England's suffering from the brain drain, but Hollywood is undergoing a celluloid drain.

Never have so many Hollywood-backed pictures been filed abroad as now.

Currently there are 58 feature motion pictures being produced with Hollywood money, all but a baker's dozen by major studios. But only a dozen or so are being shot in Hollywood itself.

The others are spread all over Europe.

Fourteen American feature pictures are being filmed in the British Isles. Hungary and Yugoslavia have one each going for them, as does Sweden. France claims eight American films, Italy four and Spain five.

Even New York and other parts of the United States have lured movie-making away from the sound stages and back lots of Hollywood.

Were it not for television, Hollywood's thousands of technicians would be suffering an economic depression. Even so the unions are up in arms about runaway production and are fighting to bring it back.

Basically, there are three reasons and-or excuses for filming pictures abroad.

The best argument is that companies feel the public will no longer accept back drops for the real thing. If a picture is set in the English countryside, it had better be shot in Britain than in Burbank. Realism carries the day.

A second excuse for shooting Hollywood movies abroad is to spend frozen lira, pounds, kopek, kronor and the rest in countries where the money cannot be brought out.

The third and most dubious reason for hopping the Atlantic is that it is cheaper to shoot movies abroad. Labor costs are less and, ostensibly, so are materials. Some producers say this is a phony economy, others vow they save money using foreign help and scenery.

There is still another reason why Hollywood producers, directors and actors are heading for Europe like lemmings. Fun! Few will admit it, but they love the luxury of locations.

Why not spend a few months in Paris, London, Rome or Madrid. Expenses at luxurious hotel suites are paid by the company.

It beats the workaday world of Hollywood where the peasantry is accustomed to the beautiful people.

Peace talks in Viet serious or propaganda?

Standing in the way of fruitful peace talks in Vietnam not only are the deep differences between Washington and Hanoi but between Washington and South Vietnamese leaders in Saigon as well.

Yet if Hanoi was preparing only a clever propaganda trap without real meaning in its suggestions that it is ready to talk in exchange for an end to U.S. bombing, it already has succeeded.

An explosion of appeals from other world capitals to Washington that it give serious consideration to Hanoi's offer illustrates the difficulty Washington will have in turning it down.

Whether as variously reported Hanoi said peace talks "could" start if the bombing ceased or "will" start is more or less academic. The real question is whether Hanoi has changed its position on any of the other four points of the five it always has declared were its conditions for peace talks.

These four are: —Withdrawal of U.S. forces and recognition of Vietnam's territorial integrity.

—Respect for the military provisions of the Geneva Treaty barring foreign forces.

—South Vietnam's internal problems to be settled under the guidance of the Hanoi-supported and controlled National Liberation Front.

—Reunification of North and South Vietnam without outside interference.

In effect, give North Vietnam a free hand.

To this has been added another condition which is Hanoi's stated refusal to negotiate with the Saigon government of President Nguyen Van Thieu whom it describes as a "lackey of the United States."

Saigon already is jittery over vague suggestions coming from the United States that a coalition government presumably including some elements of the National Liberation Front eventually might develop in South Vietnam.

President Johnson has said talks with members of the NLF might be fruitful. Thieu has said he will talk only with NLF defectors.

By Tony D. Manuel General Manager

Wouldn't it be nice if you didn't have to shovel the snow off your sidewalk? Well, the good people who live on East Washington Street, between Locust Street and Durham Street, don't have to. It seems that Charles Rector, Jr., Fred Stearns and Ronald Pitcock all believe in the good neighbor policy during snowy weather (or any other time). Each time it snows, they clean off the sidewalks for all their fine neighbors living along this route. They can be sure all the residents thank them and appreciate their efforts. Oh, by the way, boys, if we get a big snow this winter, I live out on Gardendale Drive (hint-hint!).

Someone said to me the other day that they thought there was too much pressure put on our young men in high school to win in athletic competition. They referred to the old saying, "It doesn't matter whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." Some of you may say the will to win is a bad thing. In what way is it a bad thing? Education is supposed to prepare a young man for life. Life is competition. Success in life goes only to the man who competes successfully. A successful lawyer is the man who goes out and wins — wins law cases. A successful physician is a man who goes out and wins — saves lives and restores men to health. A successful sales manager is a man who goes out and wins — sells the goods. The successful executive is the man who can make money and stay out of the bankruptcy court. There is no reward for the loser. There is nothing wrong with the will to win. The only penalty should be that the man who wins unfairly should be set down.

Are you having trouble getting your car started these cold mornings? I understand one of our local businessmen got his car all ready for winter except for one thing — antifreeze! They don't run too well with a frozen radiator, do they, Joe?

Did you hear about the schoolteacher from the city who was questioning her small farm nephew to see how his country school education was progressing? "If a farmer had 5,000 bushels of corn," she asked, "and corn is worth 40 cents a bushel, what will he get?" "A government loan!" promptly replied the nephew.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK UPI — The Dines Letter regards the current stock market as in "reasonably close balance" and says it could tilt either way. The analyst suggests that with "more dynamic" opportunities for investors ahead, it favors retention of cash reserves for the moment, with less concentration on the market itself and more on some of the cross currents.

Shearson, Hammill & Co. says that barring a breakthrough in the Vietnam situation, the market seems likely to be directionless enough so that investors will be "forced to work and think very hard" if they wish to make money as rapidly as they did in 1967. It says it believes that the stocks to concentrate on are those which qualify, in one way or another, as special situations.

E. F. Hutton & Co. says all technical interpretations of the market recently have been made on the assumption that the Vietnam conflict will continue over the foreseeable future. The company says any definitive move toward peace probably would be regarded as bullish since it would point the way to some relief from current monetary and fiscal stresses and strains.

Sailors granted Swedish asylum

STOCKHOLM UPI — Neutral Sweden today granted political asylum to four American sailors who deserted from the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Intrepid to protest what they called the "immoral" war in Vietnam.

The action was taken by the Aliens Commission after a week of study. The commission's decision was almost a foregone conclusion since an advisory committee had recommended unanimously asylum be granted.

The advisory group urged asylum for "humanitarian reasons."

The sailors are Richard Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md.; Michael Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa., and Craig Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif.

They left the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Yokosuka, Japan, Oct. 23 and made their way to Moscow. They arrived in Sweden Dec. 29, asking for asylum.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD UPI — The most beautiful, terrifying and poetic film of the undersea world ever shown on television was seen on ABC-TV Monday night in a new series of specials about oceanographer Jacques Cousteau. The one-hour debut dealt with sharks, and future programs will concern other explorations.

According to the network, the broadcasts stem from the filming "by Capt. Cousteau at depths to 15,000 feet under the major oceans during his five-year expedition with a crew of some 30 experts aboard the Calypso, a converted 140-foot American minesweeper."

The series is being produced by Wolper Productions and Cousteau's company, and there is a planned minimum of 12 hours in the network scheduling. As with the broadcast about sharks, says ABC-TV "Each of the special forthcoming programs will relate itself to an oceanographic problem and act out the challenge while adding to man's knowledge of the sea and his ability to make use of it."

"Subjects will include a probe for sunken treasure, an investigation of killer whales, a study of aquaculture, an attempt to solve the mystery of the Lusitania and an investigation of coral jungles."

The series is called "The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau" and it is a dream of a subject for television—smacking of adventure, romance and scientific discovery. ABC-TV calls it "an epic television series exploring the mysteries and wonders of the world beneath the sea," and it will indeed be epic to future programs as are worthwhile as the first one.

The color photography was breathtaking. The search for, and experiments with, sharks under water were as dramatic as anyone could ask. The clarity with which the scientific purposes were outlined and described was wholly admirable. And a sequence of night diving, amid genuine tension and mystery for fear of danger, was a very nervous experience for the viewer who found himself worried about the gutsy fellows who went below.

There are numerous credits, and many deserve mention. The executive producers were Cousteau and Alan Landsburg, the latter of the Wolper Company. The producer and co-director was Jack Kaufman. The script was by Richard Shoppely, and was read by Rod Serling. The film editors were John Soh and Nicholas Clapp. The appropriate music was composed by Walter Scharf, and the photography was by Michel Deloire and Jeri Sopann.

Monday night's hour included segments about shark behavior, experiments with repellents and tests to determine reaction to food and color. There was a tracing of shark migration, and a team of divers that tagged the deadly predators in order to track them. There were divers operating out of underwater cages. And all in all, I haven't seen much exciting undersea stuff since Jon Hall dived for pearls for Dorothy Lamour.

Opening lead—eight of spades.
In most deals, the defenders have much more to think about than declarer — because they don't see each other's hands and therefore have no precise idea of their combined strength.

The declarer, on the other hand, seeing dummy's cards as well as his own, is usually in a much better position to assess his strong and weak points, gauge his prospects, and take advantage of the exact knowledge he possesses and the opponents do not.

East had a problem of sorts when he won the spade lead with the king after declarer had followed low from dummy, but correctly decided there was no future in a spade continuation.

He therefore shifted to a low club, whereupon declarer became a deceased pigeon. South followed low, West winning with the eight and returning a low club to the king. There was no possible recovery for South, whether or not he took the king; in either case, he would wind up losing a spade, three clubs and a diamond for down one.

Of course, East deserves at least some credit for recognizing the futility of a spade return at trick two. He hoped to find partner with club strength, despite declarer's club bid, and the hope materialized.

However, East should never have been given the opportunity to beat the contract. South made a fatal error when he ducked the spade lead in dummy. He was asking for trouble and he got it.
Both the bidding and the opening lead had marked East with the king of spades. It was surely unnecessary to protect the queen of spades by playing low from dummy.
There was another pressing business at hand. Dummy's diamonds required establishment before declarer's weak spot in clubs could be exploited. Declarer should have gone up with the ace of spades at trick one and attacked diamonds at trick two. This method of play would have led to nine easy tricks.

New year presents challenge to Bainbridge Saddle Club

Happy New Year, Everybody! With a new year ahead the Bainbridge Saddle Club extends Best Wishes to all horsemen in the area. Let's all get out and work to promote horses and pleasure riding. We know how enjoyable it is, so, if we all spread the word, maybe by January 1, 1969 more folks will come to know the pleasure of horse ownership and the friendship of horse people.

December marked the end of a busy year and the club celebrated with a big ham and turkey supper on Sunday the 10. Members gathered throughout the afternoon to enjoy cards, games and dancing. At about 6:00 everyone lined up to fill their plates at the food laden tables. It was a bountiful meal and we all know there is nothing like good food enjoyed with good friends to make a happy day complete.

Following the supper, Herschel called the meeting to order and the business was discussed. It was mentioned again that dues are due and must be paid before voting at the election of officers at the next meeting which will be January 13. Lillian Skinner and Genevieve Williams are the people to contact to pay your membership for 1968. The remainder of the evening was spent with the grab bag gift exchange, which provided lots of laughs, more square dancing, cards, games, and visiting. Thanks to everyone who helped make the day so enjoyable, to the singer who entertained, to the Hacker girls for the delicious home made cookies we ate during the afternoon, and to all the ladies who out did themselves to make such a wonderful meal.

I've heard rumors of plans being made by some of our members to buy new horses for the summer season. Bob Walls must miss his little Sugar horse for he plans to have another by spring. Phil Sowder, who is without a horse now, will probably be tired of riding just a telephone truck by the time show season rolls around. Besides, who ever heard of contesting in a telephone truck?

That reminds me, maybe we should use the winter months to get acquainted a little better. I'll try to introduce you to some of our members this month.

The Bill Perkins family lives about 6 or 7 miles south east of Roachdale. Bill, Clema, Nancy, Anita and Little Bill have been active members for years. They have really supported the club in every venture. Bill has been ring steward or announcer at a lot of shows and chances are that Clema sold you that sandwich at the concession stand. Bill works at Allison's in Indianapolis.

Around the road a couple of miles you find the Winings family, Don, Claire, Gene and David. They have about eight horses and take a real interest in the club. You have probably seen Don on his nice bay mare Dimples at the shows the past two years. They're mighty hard to beat in the flag race, and are pretty tough competition in any contest. Don works in Indianapolis in construction but is at home on a bulldozer, or other earth moving equipment. He sings, plays guitar, and has with a lot of help from Claire, done a good job building a new home. It is still incomplete inside but when finished it will be just beautiful. Claire is a registered X-ray technician and works during the summer at the Danville Hospital.

Probably the best known couple in the club is Morris and Genevieve Williams. The Williams family live just a mile or so west of Brick Chapel. Morris farms and buys, sells, and trades horses. He and Genevieve also raise registered Quarter Horses. They have a nice band of brood mares and a couple of stallions. Their buckskin stallion, Bert, did very well the year they showed him in cutting and the old Preacher stallion they used to have probably sired more foals in this area than any other horse. Morris also likes Beagles and rabbit hunting. If you need horses, saddles, or any other horse equipment see the Williams', if they don't have it, they probably can get it for you.

For horse shoeing you can see Phil Jordan. Phil, Lucy and Doug live south west of Greencastle but I've heard that there's no way to get there from here. Besides shoeing, Phil and Lucy sell horse trailers and they sometimes buy and sell horses. They have an arena at their place where they rope calves and have a big time during the summer. All three are well known in our show. Doug does fine with his little spotted pony and Phil and Lucy have brought home quite a few ribbons with their horses, Hank, Sandy and Tobano. Good blacksmiths are hard to find nowadays and we're real glad to have one in our club.

I could go on and on but this will reveal that folks from all walks of life belong to our club and enjoy it. We're all just typical, ordinary people that are horse crazy. Aren't you? All this snow kinda makes us happy to stay inside where it's warm and comfy but you can have fun outside if you try. Santa left a new sled at our house this year and we found the best way to enjoy it. I brought old Pal in and rode her pulling Janice and Jamie on the sled. That old rascal seemed to like hearing the girls squeal and holler because she was soon prancing along like a two year old and was having as much fun as the rest of us. You could try this for fun. I will guarantee you'll have some mighty happy kids.

Our next meeting will be the election of officers and it will be held Saturday, Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Fair-grounds community building. The Board of Directors will meet there at 6:30. Bring snack foods for the supper, coffee and tea will be furnished. Now is the time to come out and support your favorite candidates for 1968 and remember, you can't complain about the new officers if you don't get out and vote. See you at the meeting and again, "Happy New Year."

Ruckelshaus candidate for Senate

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—State Rep. William D. Ruckelshaus of Indianapolis, Republican majority leader in the House of the 1967 Legislature, announced his candidacy for a seat in the U.S. Senate Monday.

Ruckelshaus announced in a news release timed for his arrival in Fort Wayne on the first stop of a tour of six Indiana cities.

The prepared release strongly criticized Sen. Birch E. Bayh Jr., the incumbent Democrat who holds the seat to which Ruckelshaus aspires. Ruckelshaus described Bayh as "a man who talks economy in government in Indiana and votes spend in Washington."

"He is a man whose stand on Vietnam can only be understood by an expert in double talk and hieroglyphics," he said. "He is a man whose record shows a consistent support for a federal solution to every problem—real or imagined."

Ruckelshaus said he based his candidacy on the pulse of Hoosiers who "are not pleased with the direction of America."

"They are not happy with a war that drags on with no honorable conclusion in sight. They do not understand the rapid rise in violent crimes. They are apprehensive about the breakdown in respect for law and order which in its most destructive from leads to riots, and in its most outrageous from approaches treason," Ruckelshaus said.

Ruckelshaus said farmers are in "serious economic trouble" and urbanites are harassed by polluted water and air and "property taxes approaching confiscatory levels."

Blow your horn
without lifting a finger.

Only Olds dealers have it. A horn control that extends all the way around the inside of the steering wheel. Think of it. You sound your horn with the simple reflex action of your fingers. It's part of Oldsmobile's Tilt-and-Telescope Steering Wheel—one of the exclusive Olds availabilities for '68. Olds also offers a button that pops open your trunk lid from inside the car. A switch that lets you lock all doors with a single click. Even a buzzer that warns you when you're about to nudge the speed limit. And they're all further proof that, for '68, the young ideas belong to Oldsmobile.
